2. With regard to the language, all the elements marked above were available or furnished to this Authority in the language in which the international application was filed, unless otherwise indicated under this item.

These elements were available or furnished to this Authority in the following language: , which is:

- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of the international search (under Rule 23.1(b)).
- ☐ the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
- ☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☒ contained in the international application in written form.
- ☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
- ☒ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
- ☒ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
- ☒ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
- ☒ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

4. The amendments have resulted in the cancellation of:

- ☐ the description, pages:

(Any replacement sheet containing such amendments must be referred to under item 1 and annexed to this report.)

6. Additional observations, if necessary:

III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:
- ☐ the entire international application,
 - ☒ claims Nos. 7-9, 19-20
because:
 - ☒ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. 7-9, 19-20 relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):
see separate sheet
 - ☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):
 - ☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.
 - ☐ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos.
2. A meaningful international preliminary examination cannot be carried out due to the failure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing to comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions:
- ☐ the written form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.
 - ☐ the computer readable form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.

V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Section III

- 1 Due to the step "obtaining a test sample" included in the subject matter of present claims 7-9, 19-20, said claims fall under the provisions of Article 34(4)(a)(I) taken in combination with Rule 67.1(iv) PCT.
- 2 With respect to claims 7-9, 19-20 the attention of the Applicant is drawn to the fact that no unified criteria exist in the PCT for assessment of patentable inventions. The EPO, for example, considers that the whole set of claims, as far as they concern methods of treatment/diagnosis that may be practised on the human or animal body relate to subject matter considered by the Examining Division at the EPO to be covered by the provision of Article 52(4) EPC. Consequently, in an eventual subsequent examination in the regional phase, these inventions would not be considered as being susceptible of industrial application.

Section V

- 1 Present claim 11 covers trivial sequencing primers like, for instance, these routinely used in the sequencing of nucleic acids. Therefore, the subject matter of said claim cannot be novel and inventive (Article 33(2)(3) PCT).
- 2 The subject matter of present claims 1-6, 10, 12-18, 21-28 can be deemed novel and inventive.
